SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD UNION.

DAVITT AND McGLYNN. The Irish Agitator Comes to the Defense of the New York Priest. New York, January 23d,—There was a demonstration in Madison Square Garden to-night in compliment to Michael Davitt and his wife. Nearly 19,000 persons were present. Patrick Ford presided. When Davitt was presented the people did a vast amount of cheering, and when T.D. Powderly was recognized there was not a little cheering, as also when Henry George was seen among the crowd. Letters of reget seen among the crowd. Letters of regret were received from a number of prominent were received from a number of prominent Senators. Davitt, at the outset, chose to construe the demonstration not only as a greeting to him, but a token of encouragement to Erin and of defiance to her enemies. He then adverted to the Irish question abroad, and said the fight on the land question was on once more. He could not picture the inhumanities being carried on by the British Crown. For his part, he would have regarded as justifications. his part, he would have regarded as justifiable homicides any shooting by the people of Glencoe and Glen Bay of the bailiffs who outraged their homes. [Wild cheers] That the Glencoe people let the bailiffs escape alive was an evidence of the law-abiding character of their race; and the speaker wanted to, and did, "confess" to-night that he is, in a measure, responsible for the passive attitude of the Irich let home. passive attitude of the Irish at home.

Davitt yet believed it unwise to oppose an undisciplined force against a disciplined power. That would mean sure defeat.
He thought the Tory Government meant was to externing the sure of the light war to extermination, and let this policy become known, and all the wisdom of the Conservative leaders could not avert some supreme act of retaliation. But before such consummation shall have been reached the common-sense of Englishmen will have asserted itself.

It appears from this that his offense began at the last meeting that he addressed in this city in 1882, and Cardinal Simeoni then censured him for favoring the Irish revolution. Herein lies the head and front then censured him for lavoring the Irish revolution. Herein lies the head and front of Dr. McGlynn's offense. Now, mark the striking coincidence. In 1882 the Irish cause was in a death struggle of discouragement and coercion. Every resource of power was employed to disrupt our ranks favorable, the latest returns showing the and destroy the Land League, and it was in that hour-when we were menaced by distraction-that Cerlinal S meoni, at the desire of English agents in Rome, joined his feeble attacks to those of Ireland's other enemies. It appears now that he was not satisfied with his vain attempts to coerce the Bishops and priests of Ireland into doing England's political work. Ireland. It is absurd to believe that Father McGlynn would leave the church to take the stump, but he claims, and I think rightly, the right to think for himself in political matters. Dr. McGlynn does not enforce his views on any person on this continent, or in his church; but until they are declared by the head of the Church as contrary to Catholic faith, Dr. McGlynn tells me he will not retract these doctrines. DENS OF INFAMY.

A Revelation of the Mysteries of a Lumber Region. DETROIT, January 23d .- During last week bill was introduced in the Michigan Legislature to suppress the infamous dance-houses in the lumber camps of the Upper Peninsula. The worst stories from that region are corroborated by the story of one of the victims of the infamous traffic. In the Detroit House of Correction are eight women who were sentenced to one year's have the incomplete monitor on this side imprisonment for being found in one of the continent finished at the navy yard these dens. When the house was raided in his district. Secretary Whitney declined these dens. When the house was raided nine women were captured. One of these was sent to the hospital suffering from a horrible disease, and the other eight were brought here. Two of these are in the prison hospital. One, known as Minnie, will be released and will leave in a few days to go to her home in the East to discontinuous of the continent finished at the navy yard in his district. Secretary Whitney declined to say whether the Monadonck would be completed at the navy yard at Mare Island or at a private yard. of a Large Sum. FORT WORTH (Tex.), January 23d.—At clock this morning, as the eastbound Texas Pacific express was pulling out of Gordon, a small station five miles west of here, two masked men jumped on the engine and covered the engineer and fireengine and covered the engineer and fire-man with their revolvers. The engineer was forced to pull ahead until the train reached a high trestle, two miles east of Gordon. As soon as the engine and bag-gage and mail cars had passed over the trestle the train was stopped, leaving the passenger coaches on the trestle. At this point the masked men were reinforced by six assistants. The robbers then went through the express car, taking all the money and valuables in the safe. all the money and valuables in the safe, the amount being estimated at from $6,000

DEFYING THE LAW.

There is no more vicious gambling than that of the lottery, and none that is more deceptive and demoralizing than the much advertised Louisiana. Yet we find this week California journals, for coin, defying the law and devoting two and three col umns to elaborate descriptions of the "drawings" of this method of fleecing the people, and of accounts of the results of the drawings. These descriptions, which are nothing more nor less than advertising tricks, and therefore plainly in violation of the laws of the State, labor in detail to because the new concession affects the reve prove that the "drawings" are "honestly" nues, but this claim has very doubtful footing. The new convention was wise. Aside conducted, as if that in any respect lessens their viciousness. The truth is, however, that the lottery cannot be "honestly" questions, we could not afford to witness drawn, so long as the lottery concern has the passage of the trade privileges granted not received from every quarter full re- us to other nations. The national welturns of all tickets sold. Yet it is a fact fare demanded that we should maintain a that the drawings take place irrespective foothold upon the Sandwich Islands, and of these returns, thus assuming that all secure a mid-ocean station for our ships, running the lottery is more than foolish in local government at the dictation of any publishing its lists before the tickets are foreign power. The protection of our turned in, for all unsold tickets it would, merchant marine in the Pacific demanded of course, draw in its own behalf. But the that the Pearl Harbor concession should dupes of this lowest form of gaming con- be secured, and not less important is it to the tinue to be gulled, and do not pause to reflect upon the fact that there must be a ceded revenues are concerned, the return marvelously heavy percentage against far outweighs them. That the House can them, to justify the extraordinary outlay interfere because the treaty-making power made in advertising the scheme so widely and in such various ways.

There ought to be action at this session of the Legislature in the direction contemplated by the Constitution and the present law, to choke off the methods of advertising the lottery managers now sacrifice the important and augmenting adopt to evade the statute. For instance, trade between the United States and the Hawaiian group. The opponents of the Section 322 of the Penal Code reads: "Every person who aids or assists, either treaty may be expected to leave no stone by printing, writing, advertising, publishing, or otherwise in setting up, managing or and this suggestion of House interference drawing any lottery, or in selling or dis- is but one of the methods it is employing posing of any ticket, chance or share in the interest of a desperate cause. It is needless to recite the commercial reason therein is guilty of a misdemeanor."

Now, since the newspapers which adver- that underlie the treaty. These we have tise the lottery referred to, claim that repeatedly set forth; the treaty has been publishing an advertisement or "a reading saved, to the credit of the nation and the account" of the "result" of a drawing is great profit and benefit of the Pacific not "advertising" the lottery or aiding the coast, and must not now be broken down sale of tickets, let some legislator who has by any claim of jurisdiction for the lower not the fear of the lottery ring before his House of Congress, put forward by purely eyes, propose an amendment to include selfish interests. any form of publication of the results, manner or methods, figures, numbers or devices of drawings, or any form or recital of the methods of drawings, or any accounts alleged to be narratives of the "luck" of ticket-holders, etc. Those who advertise the schemes, no matter how they "whip the devil around the stump," violate the law as it is: but remove utterly every shadow of excuse, let the law be amended to cover it, as suggested, and then let it be seen whether prosecuting officials have the hardihood to refuse to enforce the law, and the Legislature the courage to compel them to pursue the offenders. The Constitution, Article IV., Section 26, declares that "the Legislature shall pass laws to prohibit the sale in this State of lottery or gift enterprise tickets, or tickets in any scheme in the nature of a lottery." It is therefore the sworn duty of the legislators to see that the spirit of the Constitution is given full effect in the law. and to that end they should pass laws to for the term of his natural life. Yet it is prohibit, under severer penalties than now safe to predict that presently, when the attach, any manner of advertising aid criminal's health begins to fail from con given to the sale of lottery tickets.

There is not one of the San Francisco tion for his release, based upon the ground journals reaping such large rewards from that if he is kept in prison he will die, lottery advertising, that has the courage to notwithstanding the fact that he is put defend the practice, or that will advise the people to throw their money into the maw does die. THE TRINITY TRACEDY.

The Story of Kunz' Murder, as Told by One of the Gang. WEAVERVILLE, January 23d .- In the trial of George H. Kunz, for the murder of Geo. Erickson at Mad river, September 9, 1886, the prosecution rested on Friday afternoon. The defense then demanded that the people be required to place George Orr, a co-conspirator, who had been examined at the preliminary examination, on the witness-stand, which the Court denied. John Norris, another conspirator, testi-fied, his evidence being substantially as contained in his statement to detective Lawson, Yesterday morning Mr. Knight for the prosecution asked to reopen their case, that he might introduce Orr, in compliance with defendant's wish, and other witnesses to substantiate Orr. This was granted by the Court, and Orr proceeded to testify, being still held jointly with Kunz and others for the murder of Erickson. Orr's testimony was most positive. In brief he related how he went to work for Kunz in June last, and how a few days later he was approached by him with a proposition to kill Erickson for $500. Kunz continued to importune him nearly every time they were alone together, until on July 4th Kunz detailed plans for the murder and the ertainty of not being detected so plainly and plausibly that Orr consented to do the deed. He also told how about August 1st John Norris came to Kunz's house and told him (Orr) to go ahead and it would be all right, and also said, in answer to the question, "When or how soon?" "The sooner the better," and informed him that the money would be paid through Kunz later on. Orr told his wife, and partly through her appeals he relented and afterwards told Kunz that he would not kill Erickson or have anything to do with it. On September 7th Kunz and Orr went out to work on a brush fence. Kunz rode off, leaving Orr at work, early in the morning and did not return until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when he told Orr that he had shot Erickson on the Mad river trail when Erickson was returning home from Hettenchow. Kunz and Orr visited Erickson's house that

Slips or notes in Kunz's handwriting which had passed between him and Orr while they were confined in adjoining cells in the county jail, were introduced in evi-dence and identified by Orr, as also a list of questions which at that time had been pre-pared by Detective Lawson for Orr to write and pass to Kunz on like slips of paper, and to which those introduced were Kunz's answers. but Which Was Fortunately Avoided. Most Californians are more or less familiar with the particulars of the noted duel between Broderick and Terry, which grew out of the fierce passions aroused by the bitter contest for political supremacy between the two wings of the Democratic party in the earlier times of California, but not so many, nor probably all readers of the RECORD-UNION, have heard the challenge that almost culminated in a duel beween two of the leading Americans California just as she passed to the control of the United States. Had this earlier duel been fought, the chances were that a prominent man would have been killed, and, by his death, the person, who has since come to be regarded as a hero of great romantic interest, would never have entered the United States Senate, nor have become the candidate of one of the great parties for the Presidency. The quarrel, therefore, was, as it were, a pivot on which balanced for a time the course of the political history of the United The events which led to the challenge are admirably presented, in a spirit of fair-ness and good judgment, by the historian, H. H. Bancroft, in the fifth volume of his history of California. While this State was yet a Mexican province, Fremont entered the country with his troop of explorers, and he was more or less connected with the hostile movements of the Americans which preceded the conquest. After the flag of the United States was raised, and modore Stockton had come to the head of affairs, he appointed Fremont as Governor of California. But when General Kearny reached this coast, with instructions from Washington which authorized him to assume military and political control, a conflict of authority arose between him and Fremont, which threatened, for a time, to lead to serious difficulty. Kearny, however, soon received additional instruc-tions, which fully established his authority, and he thereupon appointed Mason Gov-ernor of California, giving Fremont orders port at Monterey.

Having been thus arbitrarily deposed Fremont was naturally irritated, and felt little disposed to submit cheerfully to his supplanter. Fremont arrived in Los Angeles in the last of March, 1846, and Mason came to the same place about a week later. Several interviews were held between Fremont and Mason, and at the meetings Cooke was present by the request of Mason. Cooke had been appointed military com-mander of Southern California by General Kearny. Little is known of these meetings except that they were not friendly, and that Fremont deemed himself insulted by to dishand his volunteer troops and to re-

Cooke's presence as a witness.
On the 12th of April Mason called for a of the side of the trail, and the next morning assisted in having the body conveyed home. They also aided at the Coroner's nquest.

Of the 12th of April Mason called for a list of all of Fremont's civil appointments and for all his records, civil and military. The list and a few papers were formularly. The list and a few papers were furnished next day, accompanied by the statement that the main record had been forwarded to Washington. The growing hostility between the two men was brought to a cli-max by the manner in which Fremont was ordered to bring in a band of horses that had been sent out to graze in the country preparatory to their further use by the explorers. Mason had to send twice before Freemont would come to his quarters to answer certain questions about the come, he used language that caused Mason to say, "None of your insolence, or I will put you in irons." And the information was given that the Governor would hold himself responsible for these words. Fre-mont, thereupon, returned to his quarters, and immediately sent Major Reading with a demand for an apology; on a refusal being given to this, a challenge was sent.

> agreement with Reading on the same even-ing, and double-barrelled shotguns were named as the weapons.
> It has been claimed that the choice of this unusual weapon indicated a deliberate purpose on Mason's part of drawing a chalfrom Fremont with the intention of killing him, as Mason was remarkably skillful with this gun. But Mr. Bancrof does not accept this theory, although he ays that the choice of the shotgun reflected little credit upon Mason, and that in many respects Fremont shows to better advantage in this affair than his rival. On the day after the challenge Mason sent a note, announcing that the affair would have to be postponed until the par-ties could meet at Monterey, and he started for that place a few days later. eral Kearny, he issued positive orders, which prevented a hostile meeting. It has been asserted by Senator Benton, of Missouri, and others that there was a collusive attempt, indicated by letters of Kearny, Mason and Biddle, to bring about this reaffair. But this does not appear on the face of the facts, and it is worthy of note that Kearny's duty by the rules of war was to arrest both parties, and his act of postponing the duel in a written order places him in a peculiar position. After Fre-mont reached Monterey he is said to have visited Mason's quarters, in order to make his presence known, and to have declined an invitation to be seated.

The affair, thus cut short, was renewed later, in 1850, by a letter sent by Mason, saving that Fremont who was then a Senator at Washington, could have satisfaction by coming to St. Louis; but no attention was paid to the letter, and the matter was finally ended by Mason's death a little

In conversation yesterday with a Call re-corter, Colonel C. F. Crocker stated that the rectors of the Southern Pacific and the shareholders of the Oregon and California had come to an understanding regarding the terms for the transfer of the road to the Southern Pacific system. Whether any papers had been signed making the sale absolute he was not certain of, but believed the transaction will be satisfactorily con cluded within the next few days. Th cluded within the next few days. The completion of the California and Oregon to Ashland depends entirely upon the successful termination of the negotiations, and should they fall through the construction force at work on the California road will immediately be taken off and the completion of the road delayed for an indefinite period. About 51½ miles of road yet remain to be constructed before a connection can be made with the Oregon and California, the present end of the track being nia, the present end of the track being about twenty-five miles from the boundary

In reference to the reported sale of th Houston and Texas road to the Southern Pacific, Colonel Crocker said that the control of the line had been obtained by the Southern Pacific at the same time that the Morgan system had been purchased. The road had been and was then in the hands of a receiver, and the rumor concerning a purchase had, doubtless, originated in a tempt that is now being made to take i out of the receiver's hands for the purpos of reorganizing and refunding it. In reference to Southern California projects, Colonel Crocker stated that it was the desire and determination of the company to pus the road to Santa Barbara as soon as pos ble.—S. F. Five years ago, my hair, which was quite gray, commenced falling, and, in spite of cutting, and various preparations faithfully applied, became thinner every day. I was finally persuaded to try Ayer's Hair Vigor. Two bottles of this remedy not only stopped the hair from falling, but also restored its original color, and stimulated a new growth.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Will Try One-Man Power.

The Alta Baseball Club of this city was a strong organization last season while backed and controlled by an association of gentlemen who were anxious to have it attain a leading position in the League, but after these gentlemen ceased to have charge the nine did not do very well. It is an open question, however, whether a club is better when controlled by an association, or only by one man. The Greenhood & Morane, of Oakland, have been under the management of a Board of Directors, but, according to the annexed item from the Oakland Tribune, they have resolved in favor of one-man power, and T. P. Robinson, a very energetic and capable gentleman, will manage their affairs during the coming season. The

"The eternal broil that has been going on in the Greenhood & Moran Club for several weeks culminated yesterday, when, at a meeting of the players, resolutions were adopted dispensing with the services of Directors Will G. Hawkett, George W. Snook, J. T. Moran, George F. Robinson and T. P. Robinson, and announcing that the team would play ball under the man-agement of T. P. Robinson for the year 1887. The resolutions were signed by 1887. The resolutions were signed by Long, Lange (Dolan), Gurnett, Donovan, Shea, Brown, Van Haltren and Hannan. The name of Fisher does not appear.
Thanks for past favors were tendered the dismissed Directors, which were certainly merited, for when the Directors took charge of the G. & M. team's affairs it was an amateur affair with little reputation. George Fisher, a veteran ball player of ability, was induced to join the club, and gave it a degree of steadiness, and mainly through his efforts the G. & M.'s were taken into the California League. It is understood now that the G. & M.'s will join with the Hayerlys, Pioneers and Altas and play on the Haight-street grounds in San Francisco. Evidently Oakland's 'Pets' have forsaken her, and local patrons of the national game will have to discover

Address to Young Men. There was a large attendance of young men at the service in their behalf yesterday afternoon at the Young Men's Chrisence. The singing was led by Thomas Jefford, and John Gilmore was organist. The cause of the unusually large gathering was the announcement that Dr. Leo Berson, LL.D., a Hebrew from New York, would give an address. After introductory exercises, conducted by Rev. Mr. Bordern, of the U. B. Church, Dr. Berson was introduced and spoke for nearly an hour, to the great profit and pleasure of his auditors. The doctor has a foreign accent, but his English is so good as to be readily understood. We understand he is of Austrian birth and a graduate of Oxford. His text was found in John is 9 and after briefly was found in John i., 9, and after briefly alluding to the circumstances under which it was written, he spoke of the nature of miracles, following with a masterly address on the natural, moral and mental philosophy of Christ's three temptations in th wilderness. These topics were presented in quite a new, original and most interestng aspect. The laws of nature, geologically, chemically, botanically and anatomically, were examined, and also the laws of the mental and moral constitutions. Evidences of the first coming of the Messiah and his preceding messenger being past, and the second coming of Christ being fu-ture, were presented, and it was sought to onstrated that the latter is to be preceded by the return of Elijah. In closing, Dr. Berson made an earnest appeal to both Jews and Christians to work jointly in defense of the truth against the assaults of infidelity, atheism and kindred doctrines.

Bobby Burns' Anciversary. This evening, in honor of the 128th anniversary of the birth of Bobby Burns, Scotland's charming poet, the Caledonian Club will give a promenade concert and ball at Armory Hall, which promises to eclipse any of their previous efforts of like character, and that is saying a great deal, for the club has always been very successful in what it has undertaken. There will be a fine literary and musical programme, in which the following ladies and gentle-men will take part: Mrs. Addie Carter, Mrs. James Seadler, Mrs. Percy Ross, Mrs. Samuel Katzenstein, Mrs. R. H. Auerbach, Miss Gertie Gerrish, Miss Gertie Jones, J. S. Graham, Master Chas. Heisen. Music by Jones, Fisch & Watson's band. During the evening there will be Scotch reels by the lads and lassees, the Highland fling, etc. A supper will be served about midnight.

THE WIEZEL CASE.

What the Medical Experts Say-The Prosecution's Rebuttal. The taking of testimony in the case of Josephine Wiezel, for murder, was resumed Metropolitan Theater—Emma Abbott to-night.
Metropolitan Theater—"Black Flag" Thursthe usual crowd of interested spectators that had thronged the Court-room from the remain who occupied seats, owing to the noise made by persons pushing their way through the crowd on the preceding day. The defendant, with her babe, occupied her accustomed place, accompanied by members of her family and friends. The defense had closed its testimony on Friday, with the exception of such facts as it sought to prove by medical experts.

The first witness called was Dr. Parkinson, City Physician, to whom Mr. Johnson submitted the following hypothetical question, or series of questions:

tion, or series of questions:
Suppose, doctor, there was a young woman, 20 years of age, always cheerful, fond of dress, of society, of parties, of dances, rather remarkable for her good spirits, attentive to her household duties, careful of her dress and appearance, loving careful of her dress and appearance, loving in her relations with brothers and sisters, a quiet and regular sleeper, healthy and of good flesh, and that she is carnally known by a man against her will in February; that immediately tollowing and continously thereafter her whole character seems changed; she no longer cares for dress, nor society, nor parties, nor dances; she is al-ways low-spirited and melancholy, frequently weeping without apparent cause; inattentive to her household duties; untidy in her dress and appearance; forgetful of her work; sleepless to a great degree, fre-quently getting out of her bed at night and walking the floor and moaning and fretting; objecting strongly to going upon the street; avoiding the society of a brother who had formerly been one of her favorites; and that, as she becomes convinced of her pregnancy (from the act done to her in February) these symptoms increase in force, and she loses flesh and strength; and that, as she becomes more aware of her condition, she visits the man responsible therefor and begs and entreats him to marry her, which he refuses. She calls upon officers and a Judge to aid her, and when relating her story is remarked by them to act strangely and unnaturally, and to have a peculiar expression in her eyes, and when the final refusal of the man to marry her is com-municated to her, she became hyster-ical; and that during the conversa-tions with the Judge she had consulted she makes threats, in a wild and peculiar manner, accompanied by hysterical laughter, that she will kill the author of her shame; that after final refusai on his part she acts more strangely than ever; that the next day she disguises herself and gun before, and that in the preparations for and consummation of such act of shooting she showed unusual cunning; and that, after her arrest, she acts in an unnatural manner, with an unprecedented coolness and calmness, detailing unasked every particular of her actions and thoughts while her eyes have a peculiar and glaring appearance; and that, from the date of the shooting to the birth of her child, in November, she manifested no change for the tian Association Hall, and several business and professional men were also in the audience. He was seen walking away from the store, and since than he has been lost to sight as completely, apparently, as though the earth had opened and swallowed him. At first his disappearance was kept quiet, as it was believed he would soon be heard from; but last evening it had become quite widely known. Meanwhile much inquiry and search had been made for him, but without success. A rumor gained currency that he had been discovered to be a defaulter, and in consequence had taken himself out of the way. Inquiry addressed to those who are in a position to know revealed the following facts in this connection. Mr. Smith had overdrawn his account with the firm some time ago, but his employers were aware of away from the store, and since than he has time ago, but his employers were aware of the fact, though the amount was perhaps greater than was supposed. Last Friday two experts were sent up from the San Francisco house

TO GO OVER THE BOOKS, And see that they were all correct, in which work Manager C. H. Hubbard assisted. Friday evening two entries which looked wrong were found, one being in the sum of $400, and the other $200. Saturday morning the experts found a mistake amounting to $2,000, and called upon some of the clerks to assist them in going over figures, but nothing was said to Mr. Smith, who, however, doubtless surmised that errors had been found, and became much worried and excited in consequence. A further examination of the books showed that, as regarded the $2,000, it was only an error in bookkeeping, which Mr. Smith had at first attended to by forcing a balance, but in a few days afterwards it came out all right. The examination of the the $400 and $200, and the looseness shown in the manner the $2,000 entry had been made. A SINGULARLY EXCITABLE MAN, A very small worry being sufficient to cause him extreme nervousness. About a month ago burglars entered the store and perated upon the safes. One they succeeded in opening, and, taking out a shot sack filled with old and rare coins, belonging to Mr. Hubbard, they examined its contents, but were not pleased with them sufficiently to carry them off. They then turned their attention to the main safe, which Mr. Smith used in the general business of the establishment, and in their efforts to open it wrenched off one of its door handles and did other damage, but did not reach its interior. Two detectives were sent up from San Francisco to endeavor to work up the burglary, but they did not succeed. Mr. Smith and other employes were closely questioned, in the hope of getting some clue by which the identity of the burglars could be discovered, and the ex-citement consequent upon the investigation caused him such MENTAL DISTRESS, That he has not seemed to be exactly "right" since, and it is feared that his mind became deranged to some extent. Such being the case, there is reason to be-lieve that his condition would be rendered much worse by the anxiety and uneasiness caused by the examination of his books. He made up his cash before he went away on Saturday, and, on examination yester-day it was found to be all right. The safe keys he placed in a drawer of his desk behave committed suicide, but his friends can scarcely believe it possible that he has done so, but think he has wandered off somewhere by himself, in confusion of mind, and will presently be heard from. # READY TO-DAY!

Spring Hats.

Nine out of every ten men who buy hats from now on want Spring styles. They're not only tired of the old shapes, but they know that before the new hats are half worn out the warm weather season will be here.

Spring Hats not only differ from Fall styles in colors and shapes, but also in weight, being lighter and cooler.

Six styles in Light-weight Hats for the new season are now ready. The following brief descriptions are intended as mere clues to the leading characteristics of the various

1. Light-colored Tan Hats, with thin brims and a very wide (21/2 inches), fancy woven silk band, $4.

2. Dark Brown Shape, new crown, silk trimmings.

3. A Large Square Crown Shape, with full brim. Intended for middle-aged and elderly men.

4. Fall Cassimere Hats (same shape as silk hats), on new Spring blocks. Colors: Black, brown and light tan. This is the same hat, with some slight modifications, that was so popular last season.

5. Light Hat, with tapering crown, $4. Decidedly new.

6. Black Hat, wide silk band, new crown and new brim, $4. We shall take pleasure to show the above to any who are interested, whether they care to buy now or not. . . . . . . . . .

Apropos of Spring Hats, we wish to call attention again to the Light Overcoats mentioned the other day. No finer collection of such goods has ever been brought to Sacramento, while the prices, $9 50 to $17 50, are

"SARSFIELD" REMEDIES CO.

SARSFIELD'S REMEDY for the Blood and Constipation!
SARSFIELD'S REMEDY for Diphtheria and Pneumonia!
SARSFIELD'S CHRONIC ULCER SALVE! The people of the Interior will remember that a few years ago, J. P. SARSFIELD, of Sacramento, then a hard-working dairyman, became fortunately possessed of certain valuable remedial agents. With these he effected in Sacramento and Central California remarkable cures, and drew the approving attention of many physicians. So wide-spread became the fame of his remedies, aid him in putting these needs for suffering humanity broadly upon sale. The Company has its Depot at No. 115 EDDY STREET, SAN FRANCISCO, but the medicines can be had of all reputable druggists. The making of Certificates has related so largely to fraud, that the public has naturally grown suspicious of them. But those here referred to are by such prominent citizens, of such irreproachable character, and the cures are so well known, and the witnesses so easy to reach, that we make the references with-that business men were convinced of their entire reliability, and of the truth of the marvels they accomplished. The result has been the formation of a Company to Catarrh to Consumption.

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore, singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to dence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combatted with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the mose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough. Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relie ing, permanent in curing, safe, economical and neverfailing.

EAST RIVER NATIONAL BANK, NEW YORK, March 10, 1886. It gives me great pleasure to add my tes-timony in favor of your very valuable Plasters. Last October I had a very severe attack of Lumbago and suffered untold agony; could not turn in bed or get in any position without assistance, and with pains almost unbearable; the tolks suggested Allcock's Porous Plasters. As soon as possible I had one applied to the small of my back, and to my great surprise I experi-enced almost instant relief. I continued wearing it until entirely cured, and am happy to say that I have not had the slightest symptoms of Lumbago since. They are a wonderful and valuable Plaster for Lumbago, and I take much pleasure in recommending them.

A number of abandoned military reser vations are to be surveyed and platted, pre paratory to appraisement and sale.

Hoon's Sarsaparilla is made only by C. I. Hood & Co., apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. It is prepared with the greatest skill and care, under the direction of the men who originated it. Hence Hood's Sarsaparilla may be depended upon as strictly pure, honest and reliable.

This POWDER never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall street, New York.
